Vice-President Keck is Leaving to Accept New Position on East Coast

Daniel N. Keck, vice president of Lindenwood College, has accepted a position as vice president of academic affairs at Greensboro College in Greensboro, North Carolina.

Keck will assume his new post following the May Commencement at Lindenwood College.

Keck's responsibilities have included the areas of academic affairs, development and student affairs.

He is also the primary liaison to the Lindenwood Board of Overseers, with board members predominantly from St. Charles County.

Prior to his appointment as vice president, Keck served as Dean of Faculty, Vice President of Academic Affairs and Interim President at Lindenwood College. He came to the College in 1986.

Keck holds a doctorate in political science from the University of Connecticut, where he also earned a masters degree. He earned a bachelor of arts from Miami University. Keck also received a certificate from the Institute for Educational Management at Harvard University.

Keck is active in the St. Charles community, with memberships on the boards of directors for the St. Charles Chamber of Commerce; the American Cancer Society, and the Tri-County Auxiliary Board for the United Way. He is also a member of the St. Charles Rotary Club.

"The position at Greensboro offers some very attractive opportunities for me, both personally and professionally," Keck said.

"My five years at Lindenwood certainly have been eventful ones, and the experience I have gained has been invaluable."

Keck's wife, Marilyn, who is also employed at Lindenwood, said, "We have always wanted to live out East, and this was the perfect opportunity."

Lindenwood College President Dennis Spellmann said he and members of the college wish the Kecks every happiness in their endeavors.

"We're losing two great employees, who will be missed by many faculty, staff and students at Lindenwood," Spellmann said.

OUT TO LUNCH: Big A's on the Riverfront is a place where a lot of the business people on Main Street go for lunch. (Photo by Paul Butts) the decor is mostly antiques and sports memorabilia.

Sports fanatics will love Big A's. It features the largest big screen T.V. in the area. Satellite T.V. brings in all the best games and the place is usually packed for hockey and baseball games.

There are also pool tables and dart boards downstairs.

Big A's has a new menu with everything from Mexican food, sandwiches and burgers to quiche. The new menu also features broasted chicken.

They deliver within a 5 mile radius, so you could get most of their menu items delivered right to your dorm room.

Big A's food and drink prices are very reasonable. One person can easily eat there for between $5 and $10.

Happy Hour at Big A's is Monday through Friday from 4-6. During this time, you can get free food and special drink prices. And the food is usually pretty good. It varies from day to day, but it's usually something like pizza or hot chicken wings.

Wednesday is Ladies Nite at Big A's with a $2 cover charge and free draft, wine or well drinks for ladies.

One can usually find a good time and always find great food at Big A's on the Riverfront no matter if its for lunch or dinner or a night on the town.

Adam and Andrea are very proud of what they have made out of the restaurant and they would like to see more Lindenwood students, faculty and staff come down and try them out.

Big A's on the Riverfront Home of The Lindenwood Burger

by Noel C. Sonksen
LindenWorld Contributor

When someone says Lindenwood burger you probably think of the soybean frisbees that we all eat as a last resort in the cafe. But, The Lindenwood Burger is a delicious 8 oz. bacon and cheese extra lean U.S.D.A. Angus ground chuck burger on a grilled bun-cooked to your liking and served with hot, crispy seasoned waffle fries. So where can you find such a culinary delight named after our school?

The place is Big A's on the Riverfront under the old bridge on historic Main Street in St. Charles.

Big A's is owned and operated by Adam Still, a Lindenwood alumnus, and his wife, Andrea, a current Lindenwood student.

The Stills opened Big A's in July of 1989. They have put a lot of hard work into the place. And, now, what was once a vacant, dusty old warehouse-type building is now a thriving sports bar and restaurant.

Big A's is a comfortable place to relax with friends and watch a hockey or baseball game. The surroundings consist of finished hardwood floors and walls and

AERho Returns from California

by Diann Dimaggio
LindenWorld Writer

"Hooray for Hollywood" and "I love L.A.". Those are phrases heard over and over again in California, and after my five days of being there, I've started saying them myself.

Two week, Dean of Humanities at Lindenwood College Jim Wilson, and students Kristen Gerber, Joe Oertel, Ronda Gaines, Michelle Webster, Shelley Miller, Sandra Austin, Deborah Nicolai, Mike Stoechner, and I travelled to sunny Los Angeles, California for the Alpha Epsilon Rho/National Broadcasting Society Convention. We squeezed all of us and our luggage into two mid-sized cars and drove through a major traffic jam to the Sheraton Universal Hotel where we were staying located on the Universal Studios lot.

The Sheraton Universal was very nice but very expensive as were most of the stores and restaurants in L.A. Our first day we found that the "complimentary" food baskets in our hotel rooms weren't complimentary. A snickers bar was $1.25. A can of soda was $1.00.

We attended sessions on radio, video, marketing, and research. We also attended a resume writing workshop and met with over fifty media professionals in various fields. Jay Thomas, a famous L.A.

disc jockey better known for his role as Eddie Lembeck, Carla's dead husband on "Cheers" spoke to us about his career, and so did Phil Ramuno, the director of "Into the Night With Rick Dees".

We also attended a taping of "Into The Night" and toured the ABC studios where "Match Game" and "General Hospital" are taped. The pages at ABC are full of stories about the stars like the time Madonna stepped in a puddle and cursed loudly, or the time Danny Glover from "Lethal Weapon" sat out in the hallway after presenting an Oscar because he didn't know where he was supposed to go next.

In our spare time, which we didn't have much of, we cruised through Hollywood, UCLA, and Beverly Hills. We also spent time in Telly "She Loves Ya, Baby" Savalas' Sports Bar where Shelly Miller, Ronda Gaines, Michelle Webster, and I made our debut at amateur night singing "Stop in the Name of Love". We saw Telly Savalas pretty often hanging out in the hotel.

My favorite part of the trip was the Universal Studios tour where we saw various sets from movies like "Psycho" and "Back to the Future".

Los Angeles is a nice place to visit, but I would like to live there...and so it seems, so does everybody else.
